

Daniel Little

*Professional Integral Coach™
Socially Responsible Leadership Development*

Daniel is fiercely committed to supporting socially responsible leaders to achieve success without losing the deeply held values that inspired them to make the world a better place through their work. If you are looking for a dedicated ally for your growth who can guide you with great strength and compassion to address challenges you may have faced for years, like being more effective with the limited time you have, managing change in a kaleidoscopic marketplace, or dealing skillfully with difficult relationships, then you're in the right place.

With more than two and a half decades of study and experience in the vagaries of human development, and 11 years owning and managing a mission based business, Daniel challenges his clients to achieve remarkable transformations in their lives and work.

Daniel's calm and centered presence and his keen use of integral tools helps his clients make sense of the complexity they face and find their path to powerful action. Change can be an unnerving place and yet deeper leadership abilities only come with practice in an environment of optimal challenge and support. Daniel's work with Integral Coaching™ adeptly challenges his clients' way of approaching their situation and supports them to become the change they want to see.
