Debby is a successful accredited coach who has worked with organizations, trade organizations and businesses to develop their strategic direction. She also works with executive directors and senior managers to help them clarify their values, goals and strategies to achieve them.

As a strategic planner, Debby is adept at guiding organizations through a process of identifying their strengths and the key trends in the environment that impacts their organization. She also addresses how they might respond to those trends to develop their long-range goals along with strategies and benchmarks for measuring success. She energizes leadership about their role in achieving success and how the strategic plan will tie to operational plans and budgets.

Debby also works with groups to clarify meeting objectives, assure that everyone is heard and keep meetings on track so that the desired outcomes are achieved. She is particularly adept at helping groups wrestle with thorny issues, making sure the group is clear about what was and wasn't decided and what the next steps are.
